REGISTRATION AT THE COMMUNE

Brussels consists of 19 communal regions, with each their own local authorities or town hall, called “commune”. To know where the administrative services of your communal region are located, visit http://www.brussel.irisnet.be.

SHORT RESIDENCE (max 3 month)

EEA\textsuperscript{1} citizens
No registration is required for citizens of EEA member states.

Non-EEA citizens
Registration is compulsory and done by signing a hotel register. When not staying in a hotel, foreigners should report to the commune and ask for a ‘Declaration of arrival’ (annex 3) within 8 days of arrival. A type C visa is required except in case of exemption\textsuperscript{2}.

LONG RESIDENCE (more than 3 months)

EEA citizens
Immigration regulations stipulate that registration at the commune is required within a period of 3 months after arrival. Residence permits are valid for 5 years. EEA citizens can choose between the paper ID certificate and the more expensive plastic badge with an electronic chip. An alternative procedure, which requires fewer formalities, exists for Dutch, French, German and Luxemburg nationals\textsuperscript{3}.

Non-EEA citizens
Non-EEA citizens should register as soon as possible after long term accommodation has been found and after signing a rental agreement. Residence under the student status can be allowed for the duration of the student’s study program and as long as proof of funding can be provided. The electronic ID card is given for one academic year at a time and has to be renewed on a yearly basis.

PLEASE NOTE THAT IT CAN TAKE UP TO 4-5 MONTHS BEFORE YOU WILL HAVE YOUR ID CARD. PLEASE CHECK WITH THE INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS OFFICE WHICH COMMUNE HAS LONG WAITING PERIODS (like 1000 Brussels, 1030 Brussels ...)

DOCUMENTS FOR ID CARD APPLICATIONS

EEA citizens
- rental contract
- national ID card or passport
- registration certificate from the VUB
- European Insurance card
- proof of solvability (scholarship, savings, loans, jobs, sometimes a statement upon oath is accepted)
- 5 passport sized pictures
Non-EEA citizens
- rental contract
- passport with type D visa
- registration certificate from the VUB
- proof of solvability (scholarship, financial guarantee, money on blocked account)
- 5 passport sized pictures

Some communes ask additional documents like birth certificate, certificates of civil status or good conduct. Please note communes charge various amounts for delivering registration and ID cards.

PROCEDURES

Procedures differ from one commune to another. Most communes have information on their websites, unfortunately not in English. To learn about the procedure to obtain a Belgian ID card, contact the foreigners department at the town hall, request an appointment, enquire about the procedure and the required documents.

Depending on the commune, this is done in person or by phone. The commune requests the local police to verify that the international student or scholar indeed resides at the stated address. Often a letter containing the date and the time of the appointment is delivered by the police. A list with documents required by your commune may be included in this letter.

After submitting these documents, applicants receive a receipt (EEA citizens receive an ‘annex 18’, non-EEA citizens receive an ‘annex 15’). Finally the international student or scholar obtains a Belgian ID card. Electronic ID cards also have a PIN and a PUK code which allows the holder to access the ‘electronic window’ which means citizens can communicate with the communal services over the internet. For reasons of confidentiality a card reader must be connected to your computer.

The entire process of obtaining an ID card may take between two and eight months.

The dates on the visa refer to the period the visa should be used to enter the country. In case of a multi-entry visa, it refers to the period the student can travel in and out the country. The period on the visa doesn’t refer to the period of time the student is allowed to stay in the country. So, not having the ID card before the date the visa expires has no consequences for the right to reside in Belgium. However, it does cause restrictions for matters such as travelling outside Belgium, family reunion, applying for a work permit, opening a bank account, registering for language courses, reductions for public transport, health insurance and more.

ID cards remain government property and should be returned to the commune when the student no longer resides in Belgium. Non-EEA citizens will receive a document from the commune after returning the ID card. This document can be used in case of a police or border check after having returned the ID card to the commune.
When visiting communal services for the first time, look for a ticket dispenser. Many communes require visitors to take a ticket with a number corresponding to the order in which clients will be served. The number of the client that is being served appears on a screen.
